A tonal Model for Upper Cervical Toggle Recoil and a Critical Point Analysis for Full Spine Technique

Objective: To provide DC's with Certainty and Technique based solutions to practice contradictions allowing them to deliver a more effective, efficient and elegant service.

Things you will learn in this course:

Historical trends and the genesis of MC2. The 3 major subsystems of the spine and nervous system, their interaction with one another and how technique models relate to them.

The upper cervical subluxation defined. The 12 classic Atlas listings, the concept of "constants and variables" and basic x-ray protocols.

Toggle recoil classic exercise. Use of the Integrator adjusting tool and introduction to Biotoning: a simple kinesiological method of determining a precise line of correction.

Demo/Hands on - adjusting the full spine subluxation process and re-checking for clinical certainty. Removing doubt from the mind of the patient and the practitioner.

Risk Management and Ethics for the Chiropractic practice !

"MC2 has literally changed my passion, my practice, and my life. I just worked my normal Friday half day shift from 8-11. In those three hours I saw 47 patients. When I tell you that when I greeted each and every one of those patients today, their responses were exactly the same." "Doing great Doc, no issues, no pain." Practice like this is so fun, so rewarding, so worth everything I do to deliver a service that my patients need and deserve.
